Making Your Housing Plan: Considering Roommates

Searching for Roommates:

Sharing a place with others can help cut down on costs or make renting more affordable. For others, roommates make renting more enjoyable, or helps them keep on top of housework; some find roommates are frustrating and make renting harder. It depends on who you're renting with and what your needs are.

If you're searching for roommates, you want to find people who meet those needs.

Here are some questions it might be useful to ask or consider during your search:

Money	Housework	Social
-How will rent be divided?	-How important is a clean house	-Do they drive? How will parking
-How reliably will the roommate pay their share (especially if you have a shared lease)?	to them? Do you have a similar idea of what a clean house looks like?	spaces be shared? -Do they smoke? Will smoking be allowed? Where?
-Whose name will be listed on the bills?	-How will the cleaning be shared?	-Do they drink or do drugs? Are you okay with that? Where and
-Will everyone pay the landlord together or individually?	-Will everyone cook their own food or will the cooking be shared?	when will it be allowed? -Do you keep similar schedules?
-What happens if one of the roommates misses rent?	-ls everyone okay with pets?	-How much noise are you okay with?
-Will everyone buy their own food and supplies? Which stuff	-Does anyone have any severe allergies?	-Will parties be okay?
will be shared?	-How will storage be shared?	-What will the rules be for having people over? Can people stay
	-How will common space be decorated?	overnight?

Making Your Housing Plan: Considering Roommates

